Bringing back the flow in healthcare

Create your own hybrid healthcare clinic with Curoflow practice management software and telemedicine platform. We know digital healthcare, technology and data security, while you know your business and your patients. Together, we enable patient-centred healthcare through improved accessibility, intuitive interfaces, and automated workflows. Together, we create flow in your healthcare.

For your clinic

Ease the administrative workload

With Curoflow, you can optimise your patient flow from the moment of intake with intelligent triage, and minimise booking administration with patient self-service scheduling, while automating medical status and history taking with our dynamic forms. Less time spent on administration, more time spent on delivering high-quality healthcare.

For your patients

Enhanced accessibility to your services

With Curoflow, your patients can connect with you through both your web interface and mobile app. Offering your patients an app is a clear competitive advantage for many clinics. When patients can reach you directly via their phone, it's easy for them to engage with your services in a way that suits their preferences.

Patient communication

Chat & video consultations

- ✓ High-resolution, stable, and GDPR-compliant video consultations with up to 100 participants.
- ✓ Asynchronous chat with the possibility to send documents, images, videos, and interactive forms for self-assessment and history-taking.
- ✓ Automatic language translation and editable collections of quick phrases, customisable for both individuals and the entire clinic.
- ✓ Invite external participants such as healthcare professionals, interpreters or insurance company representative.

Our platform, your brand

White-label & customisation

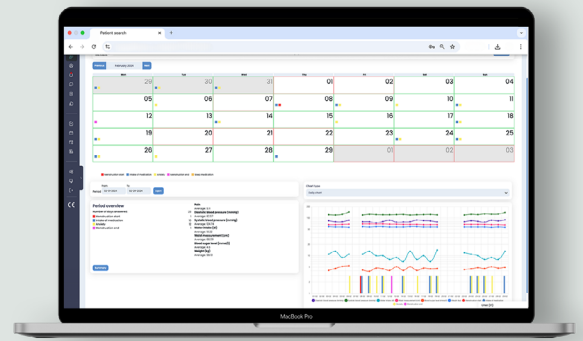

Curoflow is offered as a fully white-label solution, ensuring that your brand is always at the forefront when patients connect with you online. Your mobile app and web portal will be designed entirely to reflect your brand guidelines and design preferences.

Patient journal & health log

Remote patient monitoring

- ✓ Track your patient's health status, medication intake, and key health metrics through the patient journal and health log.
- ✓ Patients can easily report their health metrics using your customised forms accessible from your digital patient portal, including your app.
- ✓ Patient progress is visualised through statistics and graphs, enabling you to personalise treatment plans or lifestyle recommendations.
- ✓ Using the calendar, patients can easily navigate and monitor each step of their healthcare journey, receiving automated notifications.

Technology & data security

GDPR compliance

Curoflow's digital solutions are developed by us for full control over our technology and service delivery. The practice management software is CE marked according to the MDR. We process all data on dedicated servers within the EU to ensure strict GDPR compliance.

Integrations for seamless workflows

We want to minimize the daily frustrations of multiple logins and repetitive data entries. Therefore, Curoflow integrates effortlessly with various healthcare and payment systems, ensuring a smooth workflow. We also know that every healthcare provider has specific needs. That is why we offer the flexibility to integrate with additional electronic health record systems upon request.
